Chapter 229.5: Reminder: The Ultimate Divine Armada

The Divine Triad’s ambition to fortify their dominion and protect the multiverse culminated in the creation of the Ultimate Divine Armada, a colossal fleet that symbolized their supreme authority and unmatched capability. This armada stood as the greatest military achievement across all known realms, blending divine ingenuity with cosmic-scale power.

Composition of the Ultimate Divine Armada

1. 100,000 Divine Warships

The backbone of the armada, these towering vessels were masterpieces of divine craftsmanship.

Size and Capacity: Each warship was a massive floating fortress capable of housing 1,000 space-planes and accommodating millions of troops.

Armament: Equipped with planet-destroying energy lances, celestial railguns, and reality-distorting cannons.

Defense: Shielded by impenetrable barriers crafted from primordial energy, capable of withstanding galactic-level assaults.

Command: Manned by generals, apostles, and high-ranking emissaries, each warship served as a command center for multiverse-scale operations.

2. 500,000 Cruiser-Class and Destroyer-Class Spaceships

These vessels served as the armada's mid-tier combatants, versatile and formidable in their own right.

Cruisers: Designed for balanced engagements, combining mobility, firepower, and defensive capabilities.

Destroyers: Focused on delivering overwhelming firepower, armed with void torpedoes and high-energy beam arrays capable of annihilating enemy fleets.

Role: Essential for both offensive strikes and defensive screens, ensuring the fleet's adaptability to any tactical scenario.

3. 10,000,000 Space-Frigates

Swift and agile, the space-frigates formed the outer perimeter of the armada, acting as scouts, skirmishers, and the fleet’s first line of defense.

Armament: Equipped with light energy cannons, precision-guided missiles, and stealth systems for rapid strikes.

Mobility: Capable of navigating treacherous realms and hyperspace corridors, ensuring early detection of threats.

Role: Essential for reconnaissance, flanking maneuvers, and supporting larger vessels in battle.

The Power of the Armada

The Ultimate Divine Armada was a force of unparalleled might, capable of reshaping the fabric of existence itself.

Destructive Potential: A single Divine Warship could obliterate entire planetary systems, while the combined power of the fleet could annihilate galaxies or even destabilize universes.

Adaptability: The diverse composition of the armada ensured it could respond effectively to any threat, from cosmic entities to multiversal invasions.

Self-Sufficiency: The armada was a self-contained ecosystem, with warships serving as mobile bases and smaller vessels providing logistical support, allowing it to operate indefinitely.

Cooperation of the Divine Triad’s Forces

The armada’s crews and commanders represented the unified strength of the Divine Triad’s vast dominion:

Apostles of God: These divine beings provided guidance, ensuring the armada’s actions aligned with the Divine Triad’s will and maintained universal harmony.

Dark Apostles: Masters of stealth and entropy, they brought devastating shadow-based strategies to the battlefield.

Heavenly Soldiers: The largest contingent, these disciplined warriors provided cohesion and resilience, embodying the divine order.

Shadow Lords and Fiery Dragon Lords: Tactical masterminds and unparalleled combatants, these elite commanders led critical operations and ensured the fleet’s dominance.

A Symbol of Divine Authority

The Ultimate Divine Armada was more than just a fleet; it was a manifestation of divine will, a testament to the Divine Triad's resolve to preserve harmony across the multiverse.

As the armada moved through the realms, its presence inspired reverence and awe. Stars dimmed, and space itself seemed to tremble at its passing. The sight of 100,000 warships flanked by millions of smaller vessels was a declaration to all: the Divine Triad’s dominion was absolute, and their commitment to peace was unyielding.

Sung Jin-Woo, Ashborn, and Sung Su-Ho watched from their respective thrones, their All-Seeing Eyes observing the fleet's every movement. They felt a profound sense of fulfillment. The multiverse was now safeguarded by an army that could face any threat, no matter how great or unknown.

With the Ultimate Divine Armada, the balance of light, shadow, and creation would remain unbroken, ensuring that the multiverse thrived under the Divine Triad's watchful eyes for eternity.
